

Painted Stanchions

Painted over graffiti on Skinner Butte plaque

Painted over graffiti at kiosk

Painted over graffiti at multiple way markers

Trimmed hedge and weed whacked low planter at parking lot. Painted steel curb edging

Dennis and Rae Lynn Biggerstaff hard at work

Painted west overlook picnic table (and re-painted twice more to cover graffiti)

Cleaned up edges of the Butte Summit loop trail (City weed whacked the margins)

Painted Big O and painted the stanchions supporting the O

That's Darryl Larson scrunched under the O to paint the stanchions. Darryl gets the dirty job award for this year!

Victoria Whitman Harris and Stacey Deloe painted the railing around the east overlook and painted over graffiti on the black metal benches

Painted gate at entrance the Skinner Butte summit

Andy Vobora and his colleagues at Eugene Cascades and Coast painted the Big E

Good work!

Painted the Big E bench and trash enclosure (top of picture)

Painted multiple trash enclosures

Darryl Larson also painted over graffiti on the stonework below the flagpole. Scott Freck weeded the stone stairs to the Big O

Painted the guard posts and painted over graffiti at the marker for the original Skinner Cabin

Jane Scheidecker joined in the flower planting project. Jane has also worked on renewing the planter for several years.

Karen Scheeland and Diana Bray weeded the tall planter

Jerry Harris rigged up a portable water tank and sprayer system to keep the flowers watered during the World Athletics Championships Meet.

Then Karen Scheeland and Diana Bray planted flowers donated by Gindhart Nursery. This is the 26th consecutive year that Diana and Karen have renewed the planter.

The 2022 Planter Crew!

And the flowers were watered every day of the meet!

Victoria Whitman Harris cleaned and re-lettered the basalt column marking the location of the first survey of the City: centerline of First Avenue.

Finishing up the lettering.

..and the Big E got re-tagged..

...and re-re-tagged...

...and repainted!

Victoria also re-lettered the marker for the former location of a million-gallon drinking water reservoir that was on the Butte from 1906 to 1973!

A final look at the flower bed with a peek-a-boo view of the Eugene Riverfront Festival (with our Rotary tent if you squint hard enough!).
